i love you Rebecca sempre

girl that i didn't love you during all the days i didn't write here, sometimes it takes some time to know what i want to say and how, but the LORD helps me to understand that saying it is better than silently trying to say it better - i love you - till i write again, my love for you grows every minute.

i wish i could hold you now know that although i cannot physically now i hold you always i pray that the LORD our GOD holds us in HIS hand until we are together my Eyes of Blue

Ephesians 5:25-27

i pray that the LORD grows my love for you to be the same as HIS love for the church, even though i am just a man, i pray that GOD will love you with HIS perfect and unending love, through me.

Roughly two weeks from now it'll be 12 years since last held you in my arms Rebecca i praise our LORD GOD for every single moment we had together.

i know through running our course, keeping our faith in the LORD we will be together again no matter when or where, just who we are

me and you
one day
